

Bartering In Business on Increase

Whether it is because there still isn't enough money in circulation in the country to transact the nation's business, we do not know, but we do know that the barter system is being gotten down to a fine point. A few days ago we received an order for 500 inches of advertising to be taken out during the year, for which we may secure almost anything we wish, and if we wish to trade advertising for something not listed, we have but to state our wants and the company's solicitor will contact someone who sells the article and will trade it for advertising in the Sun. Personally, we find that trading commodities is a pleasant and easy way to do business, and helps all concerned.

Credit Where Credit Is Due

In line with our policy of giving credit where credit is due, and condemning where condemnation is warranted, we wish to comment on the splendid handling of the Sheets case by Attorney Argyll Campbell and Judge Wood this week.

Although attorney for the city, Mr. Campbell stated in the beginning that he would assist Mrs. Sheets in every way possible to bring out her side of the story, while at the same time he would prosecute in the interests of the people. If there was any time when Mr. Campbell took advantage of Mrs. Sheets' ignorance of court procedure, we failed to notice it, and he is to be commended on the able way in which he handled both sides of the controversy, balancing, like a tight-rope walker, on first one side and then the other.

Judge Wood is to be especially commended for the way in which he conducted the case, and his kindness in instructing Mrs. Sheets as to her rights before the Court.

We feel that justice has missed a point some place when it allows a person ignorant of law and court procedure to conduct his own case. Besides being definitely unfair to the litigant himself, it is unfair to the judge, the jury and the opposing attorney. With a person acting as his own lawyer, it is practically impossible for the jury to disassociate the case and the litigant. Two lawyers may present the case to be judged on its own merits. A person uneducated in law can no more conduct a case properly than a farmer could put a gold filling in his own tooth.

At the meeting of the county supervisors Monday, the claim of Rufo Canete, Filipino, for property destroyed by a mob at the time of the Salinas lettuce controversy, was allowed in the sum of $9,000. That's something for the taxpayers to laugh off.

Both parties have become unduly excited over the recent Republican victories over the New Deal. There is plenty of time for a third party to swat them both in the next presidential election.

Jury Convicts Mrs. Sheets and Then Pays Her Fine

After bringing in a verdict of to wet it down before it had completely burned. She said she thought the driveway was her property because she maintained it, although the fire was burned on that section between the walk and the paving. Mrs. Sheets further testified that the only fuel she placed on the fire after being warned by Inspector B. W. Adams and Officer Charles Guth was two handfuls which she was in the act of throwing on when approached by Mr. Adams. She also stated that she told Mr. Guth she had a permit but did not at that time show it to him.

Charles Guth testified that when he called on Mrs. Sheets and told her she was violating the law she immediately began telling him how others violated the same law, and that she continued with raking and burning.

Mrs. Sheets testified that she was letting her fire die out as she felt it would be a fire hazard

Peninsula Mourns Passing of August Englund

Monterey peninsula mourns a beloved citizen has passed away. August Englund, one time chief of police of Monterey, and for seventeen years on Carmel's police force, passed Saturday evening about four o'clock in the Veteran's hospital in San Francisco, after an illness of nearly a year.

Friends wept, strong men and women, and were not ashamed of their tears, when the word came of Gus' passing, and his memory will be held in the hearts of hundreds.

August Englund was born in Sweden November 16, 1868, and had he lived just two more weeks would have celebrated his 67th birthday.

For years he served in the Swedish army as sergeant in the King's Dragoons, and in 1882 he came to America, enlisting in the Eighth U. S. Cavalry at Fort Mead, N. D., the Forty-Eighth Standing Rock agency, where he remained until 1895, when he was transferred to the Fourth U. S. Cavalry.

The deceased was in the Spanish American war, stationed in the Philippines from 1896 to 1899, and took part in all the important advances against the enemy. He served with honor under General Lawton and was honorably discharged in 1899.

Decedent then returned to the United States and went on duty at the Yosemite National Park, afterwards serving in the quartermaster's department in Vancouver.

In 1900 Mr. Englund served in China in the quartermaster's corps pack trains for one year, later going to Sequoia national park with the 15th Cavalry.

In 1902, the deceased was for awhile at an occupation other than that of soldier, and prospected for gold in Dawson and St. Michael in Alaska. Not happy, however, unless in the enforcement of law and order, he returned to Monterey in 1903, helping to establish the post, at the Presidio, driving a four-mule team.

From 1905 to 1906, Mr. Englund was a member of the Monterey police force, but in 1906, after the San Francisco fire, he went to the city and joined the Pinkerton agency in maintaining order.

Returning to Monterey, he served as chief of police from 1911 to 1913, and for a year and a half he helped police the exposition in San Francisco.

Gus' connection with Carmel's police force began in 1915, when he became marshal and tax collector, and until he became ill, he served the city well and faithfully. Never was night too dark, or weather too bad for Gus to answer the call of the distressed. A prowling cat or dog often caused some elderly lady living alone to think burglars were attempting entry, but with Gus's arrival, fears were dispelled.

The deceased was a member of Presidio lodge of I.O.O.F. in San Francisco and of the Spanish War Veterans in Monterey.

On June 20, 1905, Mr. Englund was married to Mrs. Ella Albright in Watsonville, and Mrs. Englund, with her son, Walter H. Albright and his two sons survive. Of the two grandchildren, Glen and Harold, the latter has made his home with his grandparents since he was a small child.

Death was immediately due to an emergency operation, gangrene having set in again in the stump of the leg which had been removed in a previous operation. He lived three days following the operation.

Funeral services are being held from Paul's mortuary this afternoon, the Rev. Mr. Chinn reading a prayer and giving the story of Mr. Englund's life. The Odd Fellows are in charge at the mortuary.

Carmel business houses and city offices were closed from two to three out of respect and love, by order of Mayor Thoburn.

Following these services, the Spanish War Veterans will conduct a military funeral at the cemetery, with the casket flag-draped, as taps are sounded.

Pall bearers are: Captain Leonard Johnson, Ben Wetzel, Chief of Police Bob Norton, Traffic Officer Guth, R. H. Cartwright and O. J. Lemon.

Interment will be in El Carmelo cemetery, in a vault which was built in the Odd Fellows section.

CITY PARK BEAUTIFUL AND WELL CARED FOR

Carmel citizens can be justly proud of the city park at the foot of the hill, and more people go there to rest and enjoy the sunshine on pretty days. Ed Warner, who cares for the park, and Street Commissioner Burge are both to be commended for this little beauty spot which brings so much pleasure to residents and guests.

CATHERINE MORE CURTIS, ANOTHER PIONEER, DIES

Another Carmel pioneer has passed. Catherine More Curtis, wife of Charles Delos Curtis, proprietor of Curtis' Candy store, died Tuesday at her home after several months' illness. Death, however, was not expected, the immediate cause being heart attack.

Born in Wick, Scotland, in 1869, she was 66 years of age. Although she came to the United States in 1902, it was not until ten years later that she came to Carmel to make her home. She established the candy store and later was married to Mr. Curtis who was associated with her in the business.

The deceased was well known as a friend and a charitable woman, ready to help those in distress. She will be missed by many.

Besides her widower, she is survived by a niece, Miss Lily Sanders of Carmel and relatives in Scotland.

Funeral services will be held at two o'clock Friday afternoon from Freeman's mortuary and burial made in the Monterey cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Sharman are now at their Pebble Beach home after a few months' absence.

CARMEL CITY COUNCIL

HAS INTERESTING MEETING

Carmel city council met in regular session Wednesday evening, with all members present.

Resolutions of respect to Gus Englund, former chief of police who died last Saturday were read and copies ordered sent to the family. Resolutions of respect to Mrs. Delos Curtis were also read.

A letter was read from Mrs. Anne Sheets condemning Judge Wood for the recent trial in which she was found guilty of maintaining a bonfire without a permit. Mayor Catlin made a short talk commending Judge Wood for his enforcement of the law, and Atty. Argyll Campbell commended Judge Wood on the fair hearing which he gave the defendant. Mr. Campbell was instructed to reply to Mrs. Sheets' letter.

The lease of the road grader by Street Commissioner Burge was granted in accordance with his request.

The question of tennis courts was further discussed and John Neikirk was appointed to get estimates on construction. Kent Clark recommended the courts be put on the school grounds, as a more central location, and the council decided to investigate this phase.

The question of the city cutting dead trees on private property was discussed and hereafter a resolution will be passed when such trees are deemed a menace, and a notice be posted on the premises, in accordance with the ordinance governing same.

Proceedings were started to take the lots on which the Masonic hall is located within the business zone.

Street Commissioner Burge was given permission to employ a tree expert to examine a tree on Ocean avenue in front of the post office to see whether it can be saved.

City printing contract was let to the Carmel Pine Cone, at last year's figures, there being but one bid.

DIVISION MANAGER

COMPLIMENTS SUN

The Carmel Sun Editor appreciated the following letter:

November 5, 1935

E. F. Bunch
Publisher, Carmel Sun
Carmel, California

Dear Mr. Bunch:
Your editorial in the October 31 issue was very pleasing to me because your statements were all facts, and your conclusion was logical.

I have been in the utility business in California for many years and I firmly believe that the management of the several corporations are always desirous of lowering rates whenever it can be done without impairing the credit of their company. This is done because it is good business, and the surest way to stay in business. Any man with reasonable business sense should understand this, but unfortunately too many people are swayed by vicious propaganda, and do not take the trouble to think things out for themselves.

Yours very truly,
T. W. Snell

Division Manager, P. G. & E.

Mayor Thoburn's Proclamation

The annual Roll Call of the American National Red Cross will be held from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving.

We of Carmel know the tremendous amount of good accomplished by this great humanitarian organization in aiding the veterans of our wars, in succoring the thousands left in distress by disasters, in providing safeguards through health and safety education, and in its great character-building program of the Junior Red Cross.

The civilian relief work of Carmel Chapter, Red Cross is recognized by city officials as a potent factor in meeting present needs, and as an agency fully equipped at all times to meet any possible emergency.

The special Red Cross projects—one for the establishment of First Aid stations on highways and the other for the prevention of accidents in homes and on farms—both with the objective of reducing the appalling loss of life—are deserving of the support of every individual in this or any other community.

The Red Cross inaugurates and maintains its several regular and special services for the benefit of humanity through annual memberships.

As mayor of Carmel, I, therefore, call upon former members of the Red Cross to renew their memberships during the current Roll Call and urge any who, heretofore, have had no part in this noble work for mercy to enroll this year and help the cause.

Spread the word in our own circle. See that every individual receives an invitation to do his or her part.

(Signed) JAMES H. THOBURN,

Nov. 4, 1935.

Mayor of Carmel, Calif.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

WILL BEGIN MONDAY

In preparation for the annual Roll Call of American Red Cross which begins next Monday, Armistice Day November 11 and continues until Thanksgiving, Admiral Cary T. Grayson, chairman, issued the following statement: "At this time the Red Cross must prepare to meet next year's needs of humanity. Indications are they will continue to increase. Mass exigencies of the depression have been largely met, but the necessity for individual rehabilitation continues unabated. Countless thousands will look to the Red Cross for help and hope in 1936. We must not fail them."

"What is true nationally is also true locally" states Mrs. Karl Rendtorff, chairman Carmel Chapter. "We find the needs great in our community and as Red Cross is the only local relief agency all of demands for home relief and rehabilitation come to us. We believe that we have spent the funds at our command wisely during the past year but we do need more contributions to carry on our program during 1936. I know that our people are willing to give within their means. That is why I believe that the presentation of our problems through our campaign workers will bring to us the needed support."

Final instructions were given the campaign organization upon Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Herbert John Morse, campaign chairman. Reports will be received daily beginning

Tuesday at campaign headquarters, Levinson's Garage, Ocean and San Carlos.

"Red Cross, Still the Greatest Mother" is the campaign slogan and the hope is expressed that all old members will renew their pledges and many more that have not previously joined the organization will do so this year and keep Carmel at the top of the California list as it was last year.

Red Cross Sunday, November 10, will be observed by special services in Carmel churches.

RAY BIERMAN CHOSEN

HEAD OF ASSOCIATION

Ray, Bierman, one of the popular owners of the New Monterey Bakery, was chosen by the Merchants' Association of New Monterey as their president at their meeting held last Monday evening.

Charles E. Colburn, retiring president, had served the organization faithfully for the past four years, or since its organization.

The merchants elected Guy Nutter first vice president; Fae Roberts, second, and Carleton Howell, secretary and treasurer.

Mr. Bierman, the new president, has been serving as vice president, and is a faithful attendant at the meetings, and an interested worker. He will fill his office well.

The association is making an effort to decide on some plan for making people "New Monterey-Minded."

CARMEL CLUB SECTION

MEETINGS SCHEDULED

Section meetings of the Carmel Woman's club for the week beginning November 4th are scheduled as follows:

The Book Section will meet on Wednesday, November 6th, at 10 a.m. at Pine Inn. Mrs. H. S. Nye will review "Singing in the Wilderness," by Donald Culross Peattie, and "North to the Orient," by Anne Lindbergh.

The Garden Section will meet on Thursday, November 7th, at 10 a.m. at the home of Mrs. H. S. Nye, Dolores and Eleventh. The speaker will be Mr. J. K. Oliver of Monterey, who will give a talk on Cacti and succulents.

Mrs. Sybil Anikeyev is spending this week in San Francisco, and will return to her home in Carmel the latter part of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leidig enjoyed a visit from their daughter, Miss Jean, over the week-end. Miss Leidig is a student at Dominican college.

Word has been received from Miss Isabelle Hudson, daughter of W. G. Hudson of Monterey, that she is having a wonderful time on her vacation which she is spending at Waikiki. She will remain in the Islands until November 15, when she plans to return by the S.S. Malolo.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Hargrave have arrived in Carmel from Houston, Texas, to spend the winter here. They are accompanied by Mrs. Hargrave's sisters, Mrs. B. Nones and Mrs. Walter Crow, also from Texas.

Miss Emily Pitkin and Miss Lorena Ray, Carmel, are guests at the San Diego fair this week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Sharman are now at their Pebble Beach home after a few months' absence.

Among Carmel's guests for the week are Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Twitty of Puerto Armuelles, Panama.

Eleanor Elizabeth Johnston delightfully entertained a number of her young friends at a Halloween party. Her guests were: Dorothy Nixon, Jane and Jackie Fauntleroy, Anne Walters and Leona Ramsey.

Interesting talks on what the W.C.T.U. ladies have done and are planning to do were given Monday afternoon at the meeting of the local union in Pacific Grove by Mrs. Anna Clark, Mrs. Florence Paul and Mrs. Charles E. Fogg who recently attended the state W.C.T.U. convention in Santa Cruz.

Mrs. Mary Kern has returned to Carmel to spend the winter after enjoying her summer in Maine, at her home on Bailey Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adams Huffer have returned to Carmel from a two months' visit in New York City and New England points.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Adam and Fallen Man" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, November 10, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text will be: "Lord, who shall abide in thy tabernacle? who shall dwell in thy holy hill? He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness and speaketh the truth in his heart" (Ps 15:1, 2). Other Bible citations will include: "There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it" (I Cor. 10: 13).

The Lesson-Sermon will also include the following passage from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "It is well that the upper portions of the brain represent the higher moral sentiments, as if hope were ever prophesying thus: The human mind will sometime rise above all material and physical sense, exchanging it for spiritual perception, and exchanging human concepts for the divine consciousness" (p. 531).

Mrs. Marie Franzisca Jones, who had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Tolfree, and Dr. Tolfree in Hatton Fields, has gone to San Francisco. Dr. and Mrs. Tolfree motored down with her and stayed a few days.

ELLEN PEARL McGRURY
HOSTESS AT PARTY

A charming little Halloween hostess was Ellen Pearl McGrury who was hostess last Thursday evening to a group of friends at her home on Dolores street. The youngsters played games until nine o'clock when delicious refreshments in keeping with the spirit of the day were served. The following enjoyed Ellen Pearl's hospitality: Helen Wetzel, Sally Brownell, June Petty, Helen May Wermouth, Nancy Hale, Adaline Guth, Patty Col and Carol Canoles. Nancy Hale and June Petty were the fortunate winners of the prizes offered.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Neikirk of San Francisco were in Carmel last week and visited with Mr. Neikirk's brothers, Thom and John Neikirk.

Mrs. Mary Post Miller, well known speaker, who has traveled extensively, gave an interesting talk to the members of the Carmel Woman's club Monday afternoon at Pine Inn. Her subject was "Travel in Odd Corners of the South Seas," and she was thoroughly equipped to handle her subject, having returned only last May from her second trip to that country. At the social hour which followed, Mrs. Charles Heathorne was in charge of the tea tables.

This Thursday, evening, members of the Mayflower Congregational church of Pacific Grove will enjoy their annual Roll Call dinner in the parlors of the church. Mrs. J. L. McKarcher is in charge of the arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Cedric Rowntree, with their young son, Rowan Allen Rowntree, have returned to Carmel from Gasquet Ranger station where Mr. Rowntree has been stationed since their marriage. Mrs. Rowntree was formerly Miss Harriet Hasty of Carmel, daughter of Mrs. Louie Hasty, who is enjoying her new grandson. Mr. and Mrs. Rowntree have taken the Mendal house at 12th and Lincoln.

CARMEL P.T.A. PLANS

HEALTH PROGRAM

On Tuesday, November 12 at 3 o'clock, Dr. E. F. Kehr will speak on preventive health measures and will outline general health standards at the Carmel P.T.A. meeting.

Mr. Otto Bardarson will explain the health program of the Sunset School and will introduce Mrs. Atter the school nurse.

All parents will be interested in this constructive, positive approach to the health standards of school children.

Mrs. Howard V. Walters Pub. Chair.

Miss Patricia Harbutt and a classmate Miss Eleanor Breen of Dominican college spent the week-end at Miss Harbutt's parental home in Pacific Grove.

Co-hostesses at a Halloween party Thursday evening were Miss Ann Whitman and Miss Joyce Thompson, who entertained a group of sixteen of their classmates from Sunset. Games and refreshments were enjoyed in keeping with the Goblins.

A food sale has been planned for the benefit of the Monterey Peninsula Community orchestra, to be held November 23. A turkey will be given away.

Peninsula friends of Mrs. Mary Price will be sorry to learn that she passed away last week at her home in West Orange, New Jersey. Mrs. Price made many friends here while visiting with her daughter, Miss Gladys Price, Pacific Grove, on different occasions.

CARMEL COMMUNITY CHURCH

Church School, 9:45 a. m.

Worship at 11:00 each Sunday morning. You will always find a hearty welcome at these services.

Rev. Melvin A. Dorsett, Pastor.

The Exchange and Lighthouse clubs of Pacific Grove are planning for a charity bazaar to be held Friday evening, Dec. 6, at the Grove skating rink.

Mrs. Wallace Earl, Pacific Grove, entertained at a beautifully appointed luncheon Thursday in honor of her guest, Mrs. O. N. Fitzgerald, of Oakland. The table was gay with Halloween decorations, and the score cards also carried out the spirit of the day.

P.G. and E. REDUCES
ELECTRIC RATES

New low rates will apply on electricity used in the home and for commercial lighting throughout P.G. & E. system. Over 690,000 customers will benefit by this saving of nearly $4,000,000 a year, beginning with January bills.

CHEAPER ELECTRICITY

Reduced electric rates mean just one thing—cheaper electricity. To each individual home in the P. G. and E. system and to all commercial lighting customers that means more comforts and conveniences from electricity at no additional cost.

APPLIES TO JANUARY BILLS

The reduced electric rates take effect automatically and apply on January bills to all domestic users and to all commercial lighting customers.

WHY this reduced electric rate?

This substantial saving to our customers of nearly $4,000,000 has been long under consideration and we have been planning carefully for it. We feel now we can justify it on the following four points of good business. These four points are:

1. Increased demand for electricity stimulated in part by the special inducement rate of the past year and in part by better business conditions.

2. Lowered financing costs brought about by reducing interest charges of a large part of the company's bonded debt with 4 per cent bonds.

3. Reduced management and operating costs which were lowered through the consolidation of several properties.

4. By economies put in effect in every department.

Take advantage of the new low electric rates. Do more electrically, now that all types of electric equipment for the home will cost less to use.

ELECTRICITY IS CHEAPER in California

Electric Rates Cut
again and AGAIN!

Electric rates have dropped steadily and consistently in the P. G. and E. system.

In 1928... rates were reduced by $2,418,900 yearly.

Again in 1930... rates dropped by $3,020,000 yearly.

Again in 1935... an inducement rate is saving customers $1,600,000 in one year.

NOW AGAIN in 1935-36 reduced rates save $3,924,000 yearly. In only eight years accumulated rate reductions have amounted to $54,621,000.

Electricity 25 cheaper in California, with P. G. & E. electric rates among the lowest in the country.

OLD GLASS AND SILVER ARE POPULAR GIFTS

Old glass and old silver have now become the newest thing for your tableware. The writer has recently joined with thousands of others in enthusiasm for these pieces, and being interested, I know of no better place to go and feast my soul than the Whatnot, at the corner of Lincoln and Seventh, just across the street from La Ribera Hotel.

Those cake stands which were so popular, and so necessary, from the 70's to the 80's, are now being used as center pieces, and in such a clever way. One simply turns the stand up side down and places small flowers, or fruit, on the lower part, while the stem is also filled with a bouquet.

Then there are the castors without which no self-respecting hostess would have set her dinner table in earlier days. Do you know what? Hostesses are using them for buffet suppers and having once realized their usefulness, they say they couldn't get along without them.

Of course Mrs. Hefling's stock comprises many other beautiful and interesting things, too, besides glass and silver. One thing that especially appealed to me is a Dresden china jewel case, dainty and lovely as any jewel it could hold, with its delicately tinted clusters of flowers on the lid and on the easket proper.

One other is a wax doll completely preserved although it is between 65 and 70 years old, and too much heat would melt it and too much cold would crack it. It is a real breath of the past as it lays in its box, dressed in its original clothes, made in the styles of that day.

It takes more than one visit to see all the lovely things at the Whatnot, even if Mrs. Hefling were not continually adding "new" old things. The women on the peninsula who find themselves in need of cash are taking their things to her and selling them (undoubtedly with many heartaches) or they are leaving them on consignment.

It would be well for western people to realize that the East is fast being depleted of these treasures and that the time to buy is now, as the dealers are encroaching on the western supply.

If you are already an enthusiast, I don't need to tell you to see the lovely things at the Whatnot, and if you are not, I suggest that you call on Mrs. Hefling and I assure you you will become as pleasantly excited as the rest of us.—E. F. B.

Carmel Sun folk enjoyed one of the best venison steaks it has ever been their pleasure to eat, through the kindness and generosity of A. C. Gimshaw, who with his wife returned recently from a hunting trip and a visit in Utah at his old home and other points.

The Marina Grange will give a luncheon and whist party at Ho-men's solarium November 20, at 1:30 o'clock.

J. S. Ruskell appeared before Judge Wood Monday charged with driving without due caution and was fined $5 which he paid.

Mr. and Mrs. Weaver Kitchen will have a lovely home when their new residence on Junipero is completed. One especially nice feature will be the upstairs porch which has a beautiful marine view and where one may bask in the glorious sunshine of Carmel.

About 600 petitioners are reported to have signed a paper being circulated to urge that the Del Monte school district be merged with the Monterey district. Other petitions are out asking that no changes be made.

Chester Brown, who was arrested on a charge of creating a disturbance at the municipal wharf during the visit of the S.S. Hopkins for Navy Day, has stated that he feels he was unjustly arrested and thrown into jail. He claims the fact that when he requested a trial to bring out the truth about the case, his dismissal without trial backs up his statement.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Coates, accompanied by Atty. and Mrs. George P. Ross and son, Frank, drove to Los Altos Sunday to spend the day with Mrs. Coates' sister and mother. Sunday being Mrs. Coates' birthday, she was feted by her sister with a delicious turkey dinner.

Joseph Costello, cannery worker, Monterey, fell on the sidewalk Saturday night and received a fractured skull which is said to have caused his death around midnight. Costello is said to have been drinking and in a scuffle with friends to have fallen. Officer Frank Marinello was called and suggested that Costello be taken to a hospital but his wife refused the offer and took him home, it is said. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Dorney's.

The Personal Touch BY HARRY EVANS

A FEW nights ago it was my privilege to be on a theatre and supper party with Edsel Ford. Our host was Jules Glanzer, vice-president of the prominent jewelry house of Cartier, and the entertainment was in honor of Mr. Ford and his charming wife Eleanor.

While having supper in the Persian Room of the Plaza in New York, Mr. Ford told us of a thrilling adventure he'd experienced the day before. And "thrilling adventure" are his own words. I think you'll agree that they're not too strong. It happened in Schenectady, New York. He was there as a guest of General Electric, and the G. E. engineers were giving him a preview of some of their latest inventions. Among these new wrinkles were several remarkable electric lights—some no larger than your fist but capable of diffusing so powerful a light that they'll doubtless be used generally in place of much larger bulbs in the near future. After gazing at these lights in wide-eyed appreciation and I've never met a more appreciative or receptive person than Edsel Ford), the guest of honor was introduced to the wow attraction of the day.

It was a car—a radio police car. Nothing new in that, thought Mr. Ford. But there was something new. The car differed in just one respect from the radio cars now in use in large cities. These cars can receive messages but can't send them. The new car can do both. To give Mr. Ford a practical demonstration, he was taken out on an open road outside the city, and while traveling at 60 miles an hour, the driver said, "Now, then, whom would you like to talk with?" Edsel asked if it would be possible to reach his father in Dearborn, Michigan. The driver told him to take the telephone. (It was the usual French type of phone.) When the Schenectady short-wave station answered, Edsel said, "I'd like to speak to Mr. Henry Ford in Dearborn, Michigan." He was told to hold the wire, and in a few minutes his father's voice came to him, as clearly as if they were speaking from one department to another in their plant at home.

Mr. Ford's companion then asked

CARMEL PISTOL CLUB PLANS GOOD TIMES

Good times are in store for members of the Carmel Pistol club and their friends if their plans for a turkey shoot, probably Nov. 24 mature.

At the club meeting Tuesday night, it was decided to hold a novelty shoot so that all might participate, the shooting involving luck rather than skill.

The Carmel team will meet the Highway Patrol six crack shots on the home range Sunday, Nov. 17, and those visitors are going to have to do some shooting to hold their own with the local team.

One new member, W. S. Hyde of Pebble Beach, was taken into the club Tuesday night.

At the meeting of Dec. 3, there will be a banquet and election of officers.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Newell returned home Sunday from a honeymoon trip to the southern part of the state.

The peninsula is having some of its proverbial unusual weather, the thermometer having at one time during the past week dropped to 29. No such record has ever before been recorded for November.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Forrest and Mrs. Sutton and Miss Betty Rae Sutton have returned from a month's automobile tour during which time they traveled over the northeast and into Canada. They report a very wonderful trip.

After a lingering illness, Mrs. Addie May Clark Norton passed away in her home in Pacific Grove Sunday. The deceased had lived on the peninsula for the past eleven years. She is survived by her widower, Paul B. Norton, a daughter, Margaret Ann Norton, and a son, Robert Bruce Norton, all of the Grove. Private funeral services were held Tuesday from Paul's mortuary.

him to think of something difficult. Perhaps he'd like to speak to someone in a foreign country? When you ask Edsel for a problem, he's always glad to oblige, so he said, "I have a few things I'd like to discuss with E. E. Griffiths, one of my managers, and he should be back from lunch by now." The driver said okay, and where was Mr. Griffiths? "In Buenos Aires, South America," Mr. Ford grinned. "All right," the driver grinned back. "Take the phone and call him." Edsel got the sending station, gave his order. In a few minutes the station called back. "Mr. Ford, we have your party." It was Mr. Griffiths. You can imagine his surprise. And Edsel was also so astounded that the important things he had to discuss with his Buenos Aires manager resolved into a succession of oh's, ah's, what-do-you-know-about-that's and well-I'll-be's.

That's really one for the book: A man speeding along at 60 miles an hour over a country road near Schenectady, New York, picks up a phone and talks to a bird in South America. But remember, this is a police car, and it's easy to see how much tougher this invention is going to make things for crooks.

Know who Paula Stone is? I think you may be hearing plenty about her soon. She's one of the talented daughters of the popular Fred Stone, and she's just got her big chance in the movies. I first saw her when she was appearing in her dad's musical show "Ripples." After the performance I went backstage and met her, and I was much impressed with her lovely red hair and fascinating green eyes. Last fall her uncle, Rex Beach, the author, was talking to me about her. He said, "She should be able to get along in Hollywood with the proper break. Particularly if they ever develop color photography to the point where it can really reproduce hair and eyes faithfully." Paula started her professional career at 14 in a movie starring her dad's great friend, Will Rogers. She got $7.50 for a day's work as an extra. More about Paula in the current issue of my magazine, The Family Circle.

Mrs. Eva J. French was hostess Thursday afternoon to the members of Fairchild Circle of the Women of the G.A.R. at her home in Hatton Fields. Her house was artistically decorated in seasonal flowers, and tea was served after the business hour.

When R. W. Davis returned to his home in Pebble Beach Friday, he is said to have found his place in disorder and evidences of a "wild party." George Ahern, John Lopez and Milton Lynd were taken into custody, the two first named charged with being drunk, and the last named with petit theft. Lynd pleaded not guilty and asked time to secure services of an attorney. Ahern and Lopez were each sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Mrs. Bada Howland, 66, for many years a resident of Idlewild camp, down Big Sur way, died in San Jose Monday morning. For some time she had been living with her daughter, Mrs. William Sykes, in San Jose and had been in ill health for the past two years. The deceased was a sister of Mrs. Ella Lacey and Mrs. Eva Weinberg, both of Monterey.

Mr. and Mrs. Faulkner of San Mateo are occupying the cottage, Greengate, while Mrs. Faulkner writes the words for a children's operetta. Mrs. Faulkner used to write for the Pine Cone in the old days of Perry Newberry.

More than 500 children enjoyed the Pacific Grove Halloween party last Thursday evening.

Pacific Grove is planning, through the Commercial club, to hold another of their annual community Christmas parties.

When John A. Vollmer, Sea-side, was returning home Saturday night from his work in Salinas, he struck down and killed Jesse H. Plaskett, 54, King City. Plaskett was walking on the wrong side of the road and the accident was said to have been unavoidable.

Little Miss Anne Waters, nine-year-old daughter of George A. Walters of the Conlon and Thorne real estate office, came down from San Francisco last Thursday to spend ten days with her father. Anne is a student at Dominican academy in San Francisco.

EVERYBODY'S PAINTING UP!

Wherever you go... wherever you look, painters are busy. Property-owners have grown tired of dingy surroundings. They're painting out the scars of depression.

HOW'S YOUR HOUSE...

Wouldn't you like to see it brightened up with a first-class, long-lasting Dutch Boy paint job? Sure you would. Just say when and we'll call with a batch of up-to-date color suggestions. And, of course, we will give you a mighty interesting estimate.

Carmel people who attended the FilmarTE Wednesday and Thursday nights were interested to see Edgar Allen Poe's "The Oval Portrait," produced by the students of the cinema at U.C.L.A., under the direction of Richard Bare, now manager of the FilmarTE.

The film was given the Paul Muni prize as the best amateur picture of 1934. It is an artistic piece of work, convincingly done, and the Sun joins with all who see it in congratulations to Mr. Bare.

Itali in Correspondence

PERCHE L'INGHILTERRA SI
OPpone ALL'INVASIONE ITALIANA
DELL'AFRICA ORIENTALE.

L'Inghilterra che fino a pochi mesi fa avrebbe dovuta essere una fedele alleata dell'Italia ha rivelato in quest'ultimi tempi tutto il suo cinico e feroce egoismo contro di noi; perche?

La risposta e facilissima:

L'Inghilterra che "sotto vesti d'agnel Lupo rapace" e riuscita a dominare la societa delle Nazioni si e opposta energicamente all'impresa Italiana, sostenendo il principio che essendo l'Etiopia un membro della Lega delle Nazioni il conflitto non deve essere risolto colle armi.

La verita e un'altra; e cioe:

L'Inghilterra teme la crescente potenza dell'Italia, capisce benissimo che con un'Italia piu forte non potra piu spadroneggiare nel Mediterraneo, capisce ancora che se l'Italia sara padrona degli altipiani Etiopici dominera le vicine colonie Inglesi, percio si oppone con tutte le sue forze all'impresa Italiana.

L'onorevole Mussolini sta dando prova di essere un veao gigante anche nel maneggio degli intricatissimi affari politici; ci assicura che riuscera a risolvere questo delicato problema con l'onore dell'Italia, e noi siamo obbligati a crederlo perche fino ad oggi ha risolto favorevolmente tutti i problemi intrapresi.

Dicono che la nostra debolezza sia una sola; e cioe la difficolta di potere resistere a lungo economicamente con un'impresa di tal genere; Ma chi conosce bene Mussolini afferma ch'egli abbia pensato anche a questo.

Lo dimostrano infatti gli ultimi avvenimenti; come: il rifiuto di diverse Nazioni di sottoporsi e di lasciarsi abbindolare negli artigli dell'imperialismo britannico, la laconica risposta degli Stati Uniti alla lega; e cioe che il governo degli Stati Uniti aveva gia preso le misure necessarie per salvaguardare la sua neutralita, e che percio non era obbligato a collaborare con gli altri.

Come si vede dunque tutto e stato preparato con ingegno e saggezza, ed il Duce assecondato da tutto un popolo fiero ed orgoglioso dei suoi sacrosanti diritti marcia sicuro verso la Vittoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Cedric Rowntree, with their young son, Rowan Allan Rowntree, have returned to Carmel from Gasquet Ranger station where Mr. Rowntree has been stationed since their marriage. Mrs. Rowntree was formerly Miss Harriet Hasty of Carmel, daughter of Mrs. Louise Hasty, who is enjoying her new grandson. Mr. and Mrs. Rowntree have taken the Mendal house at 12th and Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Sharman are now at their Pebble Beach home after a few months' absence.

ing trash. He told her, he said, that he would have to swear out a warrant for her arrest the next day, Monday.

Mrs. Sheets' case seems to have summed up that she did burn trash after 12, noon but only to finish up her work; that she did maintain a fire on city property but that it was in her driveway maintained by her, and that she had been accustomed to do as she did October 27 for the past several years.

Atty. Argyll Campbell, acting for the city, also guided Mrs. Sheets in her defense, and announced at the beginning of the trial that he would present anything in Mrs. Sheets' favor he could because she was ignorant of court procedure. In his argument he stated that if the right to interpret the laws were to be left to the citizens, there would be no need for the city to go to the expense of maintaining a police department. He instructed the jury that under the law they must render a verdict of guilty inasmuch as Mrs. Sheets had acknowledged her guilt, and expressed himself as favoring leniency.

The jury comprised E. A. H. Watson, foreman; Major Kneass, Neil Twilegar, A. E. Sparks, John Neikirk, R. C. Howes, Ernest Morehouse, H. L. Clement, L. L. Benson, Clay Bullock, Mrs. Lita Murphy and Robert W. Hicks.

In sentencing Mrs. Sheets Judge Wood said that he was not disposed to show great leniency because the defendant had shown open hostility to the officers; that the case was a simple one and should have been settled at the preliminary without inconveniencing a jury, and that the community as a whole were sufferers in the case. The maximum fine the judge could have assessed would have been $50.

In speaking with a Sun representative, Mrs. Sheets stated: "I wish to say that I obtained a permit to burn from October 27th to 31st, and exhibited same to the Judge and police before the trial, and to the court during the trial. I was arrested for maintaining a fire without a permit, but was convicted for having a fire after 12 o'clock noon."

She claims she had no chance to plead guilty at the preliminary to having a fire after 12.

Interesting talks on what the W.C.T.U. ladies have done and are planning to do were given Monday afternoon at the meeting of the local union in Pacific Grove by Mrs. Anna Clark, Mrs. Florence Paul and Mrs. Charles E. Fogg who recently attended the state W.C.T.U. convention in Santa Cruz.

Mrs. Bada Howland, 66, for many years a resident of Idlewild camp, down Big Sur way, died in San Jose Monday morning. For some time she had been living with her daughter, Mrs. William Sykes, in San Jose and had been in ill health for the past two years. The deceased was a sister of Mrs. Ella Lacey and Mrs. Eva Weinberg, both of Monterey.

Mr. and Mrs. Weaver Kitchen will have a lovely home when their new residence on Junipero is completed. One especially nice feature will be the upstairs porch which has a beautiful marine view and where one may bask in the glorious sunshine of Carmel.
